Kapow
Primary™

Statutory guidance coverage

Introduction

This document shows how lessons in Kapow Primary's curriculum give coverage of the statutory requirements for Relationships Education, Relationships and Sex Education \(RSE\), and Health Education as set out by the Department for Education.

The statutory content must be met by the end of primary school. Schools have flexibility to decide when and how to teach each part of the curriculum. Kapow Primary's scheme is designed as a spiral curriculum, meaning key ideas and concepts are revisited and built upon over time to secure pupils' understanding. The RSE & PSHE: Progression of knowledge and skills document shows how learning develops from EYFS (Reception) to Year 6.

This coverage document complements that by identifying which units and lessons contribute towards meeting the end-of-primary outcomes – most of which are developed through multiple lessons rather than taught in isolation.

For EYFS (Reception) units, this document also shows which Development Matters statements and Early Learning Goals each unit works towards.

Teaching about equality, diversity and British values

Alongside the statutory requirements for RSE and Health Education, there is also an expectation that schools teach pupils about the protected characteristics and fundamental British values in an age-appropriate way, in line with the Equality Act 2010 and Ofsted's guidance and toolkits.

A separate document, RSE & PSHE: SMSC, Personal development, Protected characteristics and British Values mapping \(coming soon!\), provides further detail on how the curriculum supports pupils' broader spiritual, moral, social and cultural (SMSC) development and understanding of British values and the protected characteristics.

This document was last updated on 30.01.26. Please check here for the most up to date version.
